Aggies Abroad Social Network Launches

The UC Davis Education Abroad Center \(EAC\) has taken social media to the next level with the recent launch of The Aggie Social Network—an all-in-one social media hub, fully integrated with Facebook and Twitter, and interactive landing spot for travel photos, videos, and blogs.

Considering study abroad?

Get inspired! Read about your fellow Aggies' adventures and cross-cultural experiences abroad, and use the Aggie Network to connect to those who made the decision to take their college experience to an entirely new level by studying abroad.

Currently abroad?

Dive in! Post your pictures and videos; blog about what you discovered today; stay connected with your peers back home. The Aggie Network is your place to share your experiences in real time.

Already studied abroad?

Stay connected! Just because you are back in the States doesn't mean the experience has to end. Lifelong relationships were built while overseas; don't let life get in the way of what matters most: those connections you forged and those experiences you had. Some of you will be graduating soon; some of you have recently graduated; some of you are longtime alumni; all of you make up a study abroad community that, together, forms an unlimited pool of resources and experiences.

Join the Aggie Social Network today!

The Education Abroad Center (located on the corner of 3rd and A streets) assists all UC Davis students realize their goal of studying, working, or volunteering abroad. We recruit, advise, and select students for the UC-wide Education Abroad Program (EAP), UC Davis Quarter Abroad (QA), and UC Davis Summer Abroad (SA). We also maintain information about a variety of opportunities at other universities and independent study abroad programs.
